JUDGE:

RE: Speaking Invitation
Six-State Judicial Conference
Coeur d'Alene, Idaho
27-29 July 1988

The Administrative Director of the Courts for the State of Idaho, Carl Bianchi, has invited you to be the guest speaker at the Six-State Judicial Conference at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, on Wednesday, 27 July. The states included would be Idaho, Alaska, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wyoming. After reading your address in the Fall IJA Report on "The Constitution and the Collection of Intelligence at Home and Abroad", the judges suggest that you speak on the tensions between secrecy and the rule of law in a modern society. However, any topic that you would wish to address would be welcome. You could expect an audience of key state judicial officials from throughout the region.

* 9 Since I would prefer that in your position as Director of Central Intelligence, you address audiences which include business leaders, academicians and those interested in foreign policy issues, I recommend that you decline the invitation. If you agree, I have attached a letter of regret to Mr. Bianchi for your signature.

Dear Mr. Bianchi:

Thank you for your invitation to be the guest speaker at the Six-State Judicial Conference in Coeur d'Alene in July. As much as I would enjoy meeting with your group in that beautiful part of the country, I am unable to make a commitment at this time.

I am pleased to hear about the interest generated by my speech that was published in the IJA Report. Please give my regards to your members, and best wishes for an enjoyable conference.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ William H. Webster

Re: Six-State Judicial Conference, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho,
July 27-29, 1988

Dear Judge Webster:

The Six-State Judicial Conference is an annual conference of the state judiciaries of Idaho, Alaska, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wyoming. On behalf of the judiciaries of these six states, I would like to extend an invitation to you to be our featured guest speaker, and attend as much of the Conference as you might wish.

The Conference this year will be held at the lakeside Coeur d'Alene Resort, in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, adjacent to Spokane, Washington. The 2 1/2 day Conference will be held on July 27-29, and while your presence would be welcomed on any of those days, we would be particularly interested in having you as a guest speaker on Wednesday, July 27.

After having read your discussion of "The Constitution and the Collection of Intelligence at Home and Abroad," in the Fall IJA Report, the judges here thought that a presentation generally on the tensions between secrecy and the rule of law in a modern society, would be of great interest to the attendees, although any topic you might select would be welcome.

I hope you might consider favorably this invitation, and the opportunity to communicate with key state judicial officials from throughout this region. We will look forward to your reply.

Very truly yours,
